Featured Steps Of Our Students

We who live at the mid-point of the twentieth century, which can be the turning point of all centuries, have a tremendous task ahead of us. There is no question but that today we stand on the threshold of a horizon which surpasses any known period in the history of mankind. Man's thrust into outer space far beyond this sphere known as earth presents one of the most challenging scientific achievements and opportunities of all times.

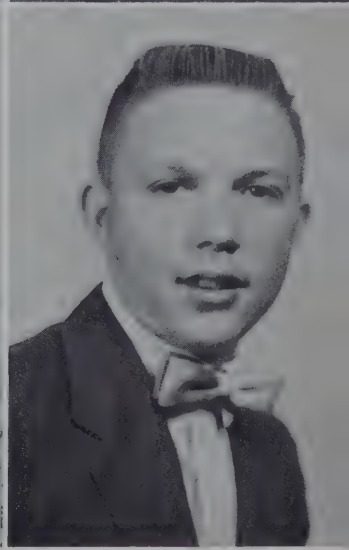

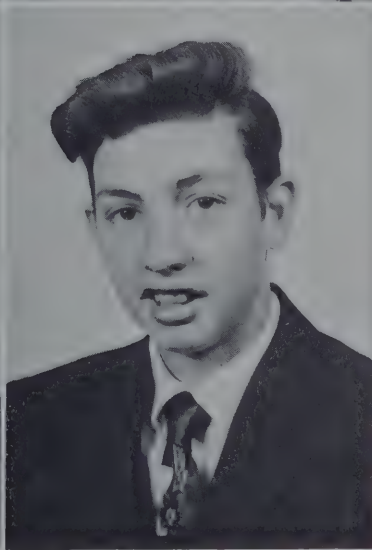

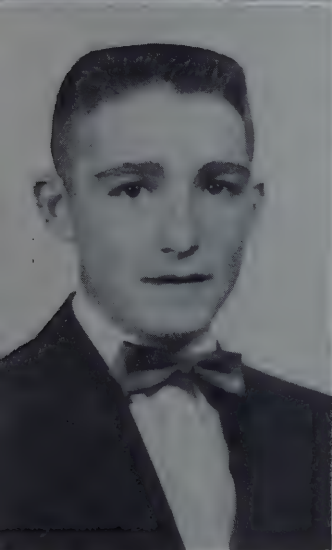

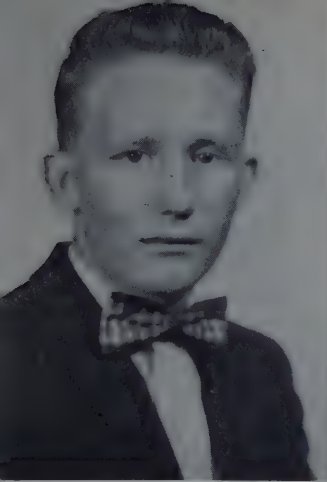

However, my greatest concern is the fact that we also stand amid a world which is politically divided into two major political camps. Make no mistake about this fact - the fate of our democratic way of life and the choice of war or peace, hangs in an unsteady balance as we face the issue of Communism. The communists have established by word and deed that they will rule the earth, if they can.

Throughout the years spent in obtaining your education, we have attempted to instill upon your minds certain beliefs and attitudes which will guide your thinking and actions in combatting this heinous threat to our American way of life. I hope that those of you to whom this book is dedicated, will remember those ideals upon which this nation was founded; and if those ideals are to survive in future generations the responsibility for their continued existence lies with you.

There is an ancient saying that, "In the multitude of the wise is the salvation of the world." So, too, the salvation of our nation and the world depends upon the number and proportion of American citizens who are truly enlightened -- and thereby "wise".
